

St. Laurence

Volunteer Cinema day

Date : Thursday 17 May 2007
Time : 9.15 am for 9.30 am start
Where : Village Cinemas
194 Ryrie Street, Geelong

National Volunteer Week

St Laurence recognises the important role of Volunteers in the Community; this event endeavours to Thank Volunteers for their valuable contribution. Come and join us to enjoy a movie and morning tea.

Complimentary screening of the movie "Because I said so".

Diane Keaton stars as Daphne Wilder, a mother whose love knows no Boundaries. She is the proud mum of three daughters: stable psychologist Maggie (Lauren Graham), sexy irreverent Mae (Piper Perabo) and insecure, adorable Milly (Mandy Moore) – who, when it comes to men, is like psychotic fly paper. In order to prevent her youngest from making the same mistake she did, Daphne decides to set Milly up with the perfect man. Little does Milly know, however that her mom placed an ad in the on line personals to find him. In a hilarious battle of strong wills, the mother-daughter dynamics is tested in all its fierce, wacky complexity. The girls help Daphne finally discover the truths and impossibilities of motherly love, all while trying to answer the questions: where does it begin and where should it end.

For your ticket: 400 Tickets available – Please contact the Geelong Volunteer Resource Centre to register your interest and arrange ticket collection as soon as possible at 87 McLarty Place, Geelong
Ph: (03) 5221 1377. Note: - tickets to be distributed on a first come, first served basis.

A morning tea will be held at the YMCA
78 Yarra Street, Geelong from 11.15 am

